Favors Church Publicity

Rev. Charles L. Overstreet Says the Churches Should Be Kept Constantly Before the People; Little Interviews.

"PUBLICITY for churches I believe is a good thing," said Rev. C. L. Overstreet, "and I hope there will be more of it here. It is not that the churches need to advertise in order to fill their pews at services, but the church, being the most vital, the biggest factor in our lives, both as individuals and as a city, should be kept constantly before the people all of the time."

"It is a fine bunch of men, the 20th infantry," chaplain John T. Axton said, Tuesday when the infantry regiment arrived from the west. "The boys are all good, home made Americans, and they are the finest fighting stock in the world. The enlisted men of the 20th infantry were recruited from Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee and the other middle states and they are many of them right off the farm. The result has been that they have combined into a splendid organization and are ready for a fight or a frolic."

"Paper money is as plentiful in the east as fiat money in Mexico," Ben Stein, cashier at the Harvey House says. "Whenever an eastern tourist comes through here, he always leaves a small roll of one dollar bills. They seem to have no silver dollars back there and many of them have 20 or more bills in one roll of the dollar denomination. I can always spot a tourist when he pays his bill, for he always pulls a roll of $1 bills. There are very few of this brand of bill here and the traveler is just as much surprised when I give him a number of silver dollars in change."

"Boys of the militia companies, and other military organizations in Fort Worth are thinking the country is getting ready for intervention," said E. E. Thompson, who has returned from a business trip to the state capital, Texas. "Just as soon as the people there know that an El Pasoan is in the city they want to know all the war news. There is more war talk in Fort Worth than there is here. Everywhere, almost, is discussing Mexico. They not only ask about intervention, but are confident that it is going to take place. I was there about a week and during that time I had to answer many questions about the Mexican situation as it appeared to El Pasoans."

"We are rushed with work," says Dr. C. E. Braden, who has charge of the Red Cross relief work now being carried on among the "Constitutionalist" wounded in Juarez. "We have discovered that the one building we now occupy, the Tivoli, is not large enough to accommodate the wounded, so we are making preparations to convert the big fire hall back of it into another hospital. We have 67 patients in the Tivoli and have no room for more. A number of the cases are serious. There are still 20 or 40 more wounded to be brought from other hospitals about town."

UNITED SHOE MACHINERY CO. FIGHTS MONOPOLY CHARGE
Boston, Mass., Dec. 2.—Sidney W. Winslow, president of the United Shoe Machinery company, was the first witness here for the defense in the dissolution proceedings instituted by the government. The witness explained the intricate processes by which shoes are last and stitched.

As explained by Charles F. Choate, counsel for the defense, the doctrine of the supreme court in the "timber case," which he cited, is nothing more than the common law right of a manufacturer to protect his property and get as good a return for it in the market as he honestly may.

Discussing the so-called "tying clauses," which are included in leases of the company's machines, the witness contended that the royalty of from 2 to 4 cents a pair on shoes made on their machines would not provide a suitable return unless the machine was properly used. It was to insure its proper use that the tying clauses were inserted in the leases to manufacturers, he said. These clauses, which require shoe manufacturers to use certain machines, constitute one of the means by which an unlawful monopoly was created by the company, according to the contention of the government.

SPARK FROM STOVE SETS HOUSE AFIRE

A spark flying through the open door of a stove started a fire Tuesday night at 10:45 o'clock, which, but for next door neighbors, might have destroyed the residence at 1115 East Boulevard. The heat in the room, in which the fire originated, was so intense that one of the windows cracked. The noise attracted the attention of the occupants of the adjoining residence, who turned in the alarm. The Mesa and Central fire companies responded. Considerable damage was done to the floor of the house before the blaze was extinguished. O. A. Bell, who occupied the home, was absent at the time of the fire.

COOKS ARE ARTISTS, HOTEL MEN ASSERT

New York, Dec. 2.—Jean Millon, chef at the Ritz-Carlton hotel, was indicted by the United States grand jury for violating the contract labor law for hiring 80 cooks through agents in France. The indictment is said to be the first fruit of a government crusade against the importation of cooks, practiced by many of the big New York hotels and restaurants. The hotel men have taken the ground that a French cook is an artist and that by hiring them abroad they are no more amenable to the contract labor law than the managers of grand opera are when they engage their European singers.

"SPUGS" TO BE HOSTS TO LONELY PEOPLE

New York, Dec. 2.—The local organization of the Society for the Prevention of Useless Giving intends to play a part on Christmas day to every lonely person in New York city. There is to be a Christmas party in the Grand Central palace for the lonely; a Christmas tree, music, dancing, singing and refreshments. The number of guests expected is placed at 20,000. To defray the expenses of the entertainment the "spugs" are making voluntary contributions, placing their offerings in a huge paper pie at the headquarters. The pie is to be opened Christmas afternoon.

ROBBERS KILL CALIFORNIAN
